

Annual Assessment Inspection Notice

Inspection work for the 2008 assessment roll is underway. 2007 was another busy construction year. As usual, literally hundreds of properties need to be visited this coming year for one reason or another. These reasons might include; physical changes made to a property or building in 2007, a previous year's partially complete building may be more complete or finished January of 2008, buildings may have been added, removed or destroyed. Some of these inspections do require access to your home. If this is the case, you'll be sent a specific inspection request letter from our office. Other inspections do not require access to your home. That new garage, shed or deck for instance, can easily be measured & photographed without inconveniencing you. Due to our many seasonal property owners, it's quite possible that we will be stopping by your place when you are not home. Each year, we ask that if for any reason a property owner does not want a representative from the Assessor's Office to be on their property, that you put your request in writing and send it to us at the address listed below. These letters will be kept in your file for the 2008 assessment year so that your request can be honored. Should you have any questions at all, please feel free to give us a call.
